Haley Johnston

Hometown:

Wellsville, PA

Shows:

Draft Horse Riding

Haley Johnston fell in love with horses at the very young age of seven and has a total of 25 years of horse experience. She grew up in the local 4-H club, holding many leadership roles, and competing in and qualifying for counties, districts, and state shows. During her time in 4-H, she rode both English and Western disciplines and competed in horse judging competitions. Haley was also very involved in pony club. During her time in Pony Club, she qualified to compete in many championship shows in Virginia, North Carolina, and Kentucky. Haley competed in Pony Club eventing, dressage, and show jumping competitions. Haley completed all the pony club ratings up to the H-B (knowledge) and C-3 (riding) levels.

She has been teaching riding lessons for 19 years, teaching all levels and ages of riders. She has her master-level teaching certification from the Certified Horsemanship Association for both, English and Western. Haley currently runs her own boarding and riding lesson business which she has built over the past 13 years at her farm in Lewisberry PA. Additionally, Haley has a bachelor's degree in elementary education and a master's degree in special education. Her full-time job entails educating students who have special needs at a local public elementary school. Haley is a certified 4-H judge through Penn State and enjoys judging many local shows throughout the year!
